India-based capital markets consulting firm, PIVOT, has launched a new division offering governance and compliance advisory services and has appointed Dr Rajeev Uberoi to head it up as consulting director.

He brings over 35 years of experience in senior management to the role, including stints with India's banking regulator and a range of commercial banks, serving in multiple capacities, notably in the areas of risk, legal and compliance.

"I have worked alongside Dr. Rajeev at a leading US bank as well as known of his contributions over the decades in developing business and best practices," said Viraj Kulkarni, CEO of PIVOT. "I am delighted that he has chosen to guide the newly created division. He brings a wealth of knowledge and best practices that will benefit the Institutional segment leading to greater good and benefit to clients and industry."

The new division completes the firm's suite of capital markets advisory and business transformation services. Headquartered in Mumbai, PIVOT also has a presence in Cyprus and has in the past year added an office in Luxembourg. It is a co-founding member of The Securities Services Advisory Group (TSSAG), a global network of independent advisory firms.
